PARTY!

STUDENTS GATHER TO RELAX

On weekends, students often came together at parties or just to hang out and relax. Weekend parties often had themes, so many people like to get into the spirit and dress up in crazy costumes. One thing is for sure about MCC students--they know how to have fun!

In the classroom

Don't worry, more electives to come.

Each year, new students come in and take their stab at college life. The required freshman classes were a refresher to some, but to others the classes provide a solid foundation.

"I'm looking forward to the non-survey classes. The freshman classes are a drag to me because I feel pretty knowledgeable in most of them. They really need CLEP tests for Bible," noted Amber Beck.

Higher-level courses usually provided more opportunities for students to utilize what they are learning through projects and activities.

These classes focused on developing skills such as preaching, teaching, counseling, and many others. They also covered particular subjects such as a book of the Bible.

Overall, classes prepare a student for his or her call to ministry. -L. Anthiis

LEAD students

Finding success in continuing education

The LEAD Degree Completion Program was established in 1994 to serve adult students seeking to continue their education by completing a bachelor's degree. It is tailored to the learning needs of adults who are usually employed full-time.

The LEAD program consists of seventeen courses/modules. A module averages five class sessions which meet from 6:00 to 10:00 one night a week. Homework is designed to take at least twenty hours study outside the classroom. This provides the seat time needed for college work. It takes 23 months to complete the program.

Students begin and complete their studies together as a cohort. This means that they encourage and challenge one another in the various courses. Courses are organized into four semesters for a total of 48 semester credit hours.

In the 2000-2001 school year, there were six classes (cohorts) all meeting here in Manhattan. In those classes, there were 105 adult students enrolled. The LEAD degree is a Bachelor of Science in Management and Ethics. —

Graduation

Fifty Four Commence into Ministry

Graduation was a series of special events. The first, Senior Chapel, has become a treasured tradition. Grads led the students in song and Josh Longenecker spoke. The graduates then lined up along the front of the chapel where they described their future plans. Faculty, staff members, and students then gathered around them to pray for them.

At a Saturday luncheon the graduates and family members enjoyed a meal at the KSU Union Ballroom. The climax was the moment when graduates were welcomed into the alumni association by director, Kevin Ingram.

The graduates then went immediately to Forum Hall for rehearsal, group picture, and individual pictures for the yearbook. Fifty-four men and women received degrees in the commencement ceremony. New Vice President of Academic Affairs, Randall Ingmire, was the speaker.

A World Away

Students experience summer ministries.

During the school year, students prepared themselves for future ministry with books and studies. However, when summer rolled around, many dropped everything and jumped into ministry full time. Some students took off to far-away lands to get a cross cultural experience, while others scattered all over the United States to work at camps or as interns in churches.

During the summer of 2000, students could be found teaching English in China, Hungary and Kosovo. They were busy planting churches in the jungles of Indonesia and the Philippines. Some were in places many people can't spell.

Others were working at an inner-city youth camp in Chicago, or sweating out the unusually hot summer while ministering to kids in Arizona, Missouri, and even here in KS.

Even more students were learning what it takes to work at a church full time by doing internships all over the country. Whatever they chose to do, the experiences they had during summer ministries will shape their lives and ministries for the rest of their lives.

Called to Endure

"Do you not know that in a race all the runners run, but only one gets the prize? Run in such a way as to get the prize. Everyone who competes in the games goes into strict training. They do it to get a crown that will not last forever. Therefore I do not run like a man running aimlessly; I do not fight like a man beating the air. No, I beat my body and make it my slave so that after I have preached to others, I myself will not be disqualified for the prize."

New players and a new coach add up to a great season

The second season of Lady Crusader soccer was marked with the addition of a new head coach, Stacie Kelmer, and many new players. More players allowed for more fellowship, more relationships, and definitely more substitutions.

"My favorite game this year was one of the home games. It was muddy and we were all sliding everywhere and running to get warm. It was so fun!" said

Molly Holekamp.

The team had many fun memories.

"The night before our first game in Joplin, we stayed in a hotel and Holli Palmieri and I spent all night jumping on our beds in our uniforms to break them in," said Brooke Rinehart.

"It was my first year to play and I was scared of being a goalie, but, mostly I went out for the fellowship."

SOCCER

Hard work pays off for a near perfect season.

The men's soccer team is once again a "work of art". The team went undefeated throughout their regular conference season, and earned yet another chance to participate in the national tournament in Florida. While at nationals, the soccer team racked up another two wins. One loss accompanied the team on its way home. Ben Thornley notes, "We, as a team, expected to go undefeated throughout the entire season, including nationals. When we lost our game at nationals, we were disappointed because we hadn't accomplished our goal, but now we have something to look forward to next year--going all the way and taking first at nationals."

All in all, the soccer team completed their season on a good note, placing third in the nation and ending with a record of 21-1.

Team spirit fueled by strong hearts and unity

This year's Lady Crusaders volleyball team faced adversity from the get go. With a team of mostly freshmen, the ladies' first challenge was to learn to play with people whose playing styles were unknown to them.

Despite this strike against them, the women had a positive attitude and were able to have fun in the midst of all their hard work.

"It was a good opportunity to get to know a variety of girls right off the bat," declared Julie Taylor.

Lana Enfield explained that her favorite thing about the season was spending time with the girls on the team. Their focus on winning was never so great that they could not have fun.

"Two of the things I'll remember most were when we played with toy guns at tournaments on the stadium, and when Meghan Hughes hit a deer with the school van coming back from a game," reminisced Lynette Brax.

The team overcame many obstacles throughout the season but the overall consensus was that the girls had a positive experience which will long be remembered.

"I think the coolest thing about our team was we didn't have many wins, but we had fun. No one exceeded anyone else and we all worked together," concluded Meghan Hughes.

Overtaking obstacles, young team makes season worth it all

The 2000-2001 men's basketball team consisted of six freshmen, three sophomores, one junior, and two seniors.

"This was a really good year," said Coach Shawn Condra. "These guys are a fun bunch to be around and I got to see them grow up a lot. We have a lot of things to look forward to!"

The guys did overcome adversity to become a team, and eventually made it to National competition after placing second in their conference. They had an overall record of 16-10. Still, the team hopes for even better years to come.

"We have a solid core of freshmen and we'll bring the heat the next three years. We will make it to the Big Dance!" Aaron Bates.

RECREATIONAL SPORTS

Students take free time to relax and have fun

If there is anything that college students do well, it is relaxing. Somehow, the students seemed to find more time to unwind than for anything else.

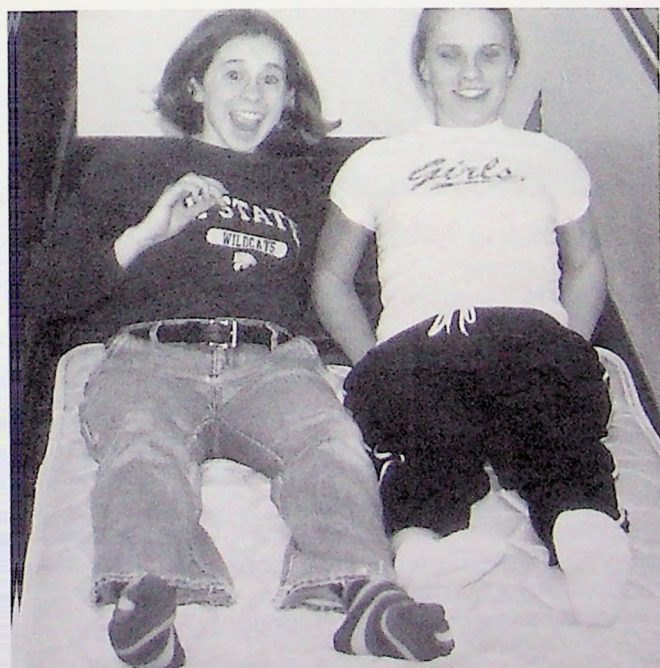

Some of the most popular ways to relax and get some exercise were to head to the slab for some basketball, tear into the volleyball pit, or go to Ned's to run the pool table against some unsuspecting student.

In addition to the typical sports such as football and baseball, Manhattan Christian College was host to several "alternative" sports. An unofficial MCC roller hockey team was established, lacrosse seemed to appear out of nowhere, and what would a year at MCC be without treeball in front of Johnson Hall?

Even extreme sports found their way into campus life as snow and ice provided students good surfaces for a slipping good time.

Additionally, the new foosball table in the Johnson Hall lobby seemed never to rest (even in the wee hours of the morning). -D. Kerwood

Campus pauses for some time out with God.

Every Tuesday and Thursday morning students gathered together at Valerius Chapel inside Jolliffe Hall to set aside an hour for worshipping God. A typical service in the usually packed room started with singing led by a worship band who set the mood for the service. On Tuesdays, an offering was taken to support a mission or concern of the student body; then a speaker presented a short sermon. Occasionally other formats, such as silent prayer, were used, but chapel was always about worship.

D-groups/FAST groups get close and personal with God

Good Times

An essential part of any college is small group time. MCC takes advantage of this by placing people in D-groups and FAST groups. These groups met at least once a week to grow closer to God's Word and fellowship with one another. D-groups consisted mainly of Freshmen and Sophomores and were led by Juniors or Seniors. FAST groups contained upperclassmen and were led by faculty and staff members. The groups participated in a wide variety of activities, ranging from sleepovers to eating out, to any number of surprise outings. -E. Jones

J.A.M. and Praise 150 strike a chord for the Lord

In a typical weekend, many students will sleep in, watch movies, and perhaps do some homework. However, for the members of the praise and worship ministry teams J.A.M and Praise 150, such weekends were rare. The students in these two audition ensembles spent much of their time rehearsing and traveling so that they would be ready when called upon to help others praise God better through praise and worship music. From chapel services to church services, the music ministry teams served their God and school with their time and talents.

Instrumental Ensemble inspires creative worship

Despite the fact that the Instrumental Ensemble did not have a flashy name, members proved that they possessed creativity, especially in worship. After performances on the Colorado tour, people who attended often commented that from the first classically arranged hymn to the last Dixieland jazz style medley, they were wrapped up in the music and worship. Even with an odd assortment of instruments, the Instrumental Ensemble put on quite a show!

There is almost always an awkward moment of silence just before a room is filled with the sounds of a Celebration Singers or Inspiration Ringers performance. This moment is filled not only with the anticipation of the audience, but also with the focused excitement of a group of musicians ready to give everything they have for one purpose - to glorify God. The Inspiration Ringers, a handbell choir, and the Celebration Singers, a traditional choir, occasionally got a little goofy, but their mission of helping others reflects on God's glory shone through in everything they did.

The year 2001 marked the twentieth year that Kenneth Cable has been president of Manhattan Christian College. In honor of the occasion, a special banquet was held with many who have been a part of his ministry in attendance.

The school also had the chance to encourage James and Becky Snyder and family as they wrapped up their ministry here. After three years of challenging and encouraging his students, a small crowd gathered to wish them well in their future ministries.

Called to Serve

"It was he who gave some to be apostles, some to be prophets, some to be evangelists, and some to be pastors and teachers, to prepare God's people for works of service, so that the body of Christ may be built up until we all reach unity in the faith and in the knowledge of the Son of God and become mature, attaining to the whole measure of the fullness of Christ." What exactly does STUCO do? one may ask. Perhaps the real question should be, what does STUCO not do?

This dedicated group of leaders has worked hard on behalf of the student body throughout the year. They were the organizing hand behind orientation work projects, Kerusso Days, Battle of the Bands, and the Faculty and Staff Appreciation Banquet. They also sponsored a work day at the Swihart's farm and held several Praise and Worship sessions. Besides organizing all of these activities, the Student Council performed numerous other duties and had tons of fun. They enjoyed the effective leadership of President Shelby Wertz, Vice President Lyndi Schnelle, Secretary Laura McFarren, and Treasurer Megan Myers. -A. Anderson

SHELBY WERTZ

JOSH NELSON

"Through STUCO, I've learned a lot about leadership and organization."

CONSTANCE PEARCE

"STUCO is an opportunity for students to make a difference not only on this campus, but to impact the community and ultimately the Kingdom of God."

BRAD LENHARDT

"STUCO is a great opportunity to get involved with the leadership at this school."

JASON JAGGARD

"I thought Shelby and her officers did a fantastic job of trying to push the envelope to see what STUCO is really capable of."

ASHLEY BUNTING

"Student Council has been a great opportunity to learn about teamwork, servant leadership, and how to support others in ministry."

TRICIA TRAUB

"Servant's Heart has been a lot of fun this year and it has been great seeing how much we have been able to accomplish."

SARAH PROSISE

"The Servant's Heart Committee is a great way to get involved in the community, especially through the nursing home ministry."

Students in the Servant's Heart Committee reached out to the community through the nursing home ministry, work projects, and many other ways.

Under the leadership of Tricia Traub and Sarah Prosis, this committee had an event-filled year. One of their main focuses this year was the nursing home ministry. Each week, students sang in a nursing home, and they provided a church service once a month.

In addition, the Servant's Heart Committee painted pumpkins for the nursing home, provided them with turkey magnets, and gave them flowers on Valentine's Day.

Members of the committee picked up trash around campus, provided some meals for teachers, some snacks for the Spring Break missions trips, and organized an all-school work day. They were also responsible for organizing the canned food and clothing drives.

Countless hours and much effort were dedicated by these students to serve in the community. -A. Anderson

OUTREACH

The Outreach Committee worked throughout this year to reach other cultures, both locally and globally.

Under the leadership of Patty Ciarla and Jeni Foltz, this committee reached out to touch the lives of international students at K-State.

They hosted both a pizza party and a game night for the students. A major focus of the committee, however, and one that took great time and effort, was the mission trips that were planned for Spring Break.

Jeni Foltz headed up a trip to Chicago. She and twelve others helped the community in various ways, such as working in a greenhouse. Patty Ciarla took a group of twenty-five other students to Mexico, where they put a great deal of effort into improving the facilities at a local church.

This was the third year in a row that Outreach went to this church in Saltillo, Mexico. They rebuilt shelves, painted, and spent some time working with the people as well. The committee as a whole definitely succeeded in making a global impact. -A. Anderson

JENI FOLTZ

"Leading Outreach has been one of the greatest opportunities I've had to meet international people and be friends with them."

PATTY CIARLA

"It was fun."

MICHELLE FARAG

"Nothing is as tender as touching people's lives through random acts of encouragement."

ROBYN WRIGHT

"Our biggest event of the year was the banana split party. It was great to see MCC supporting our soccer team in a brand-new way."

EVIE KRENZIN

"In prayer committee this year, I learned that friendship and communication with God brings about friendship and communication with people."

MICHELLE NEUGEBAUER

"I don't feel like anyone in the SAC Committee felt like it was a burden to be there. We were all excited about the things we were planning and had fun doing it."

NOLA FINK

"We had an amazing group of committee members who did an excellent job this year. No matter how big or small the task was, they were ready to help."

STUDENT COMMITTEES

The Student Activities, Student Encouragement, Prayer, and Athletic Encouragement Committees each took the initiative to make a difference in people's lives on campus.

SUSAN KIRBY

"A time of refocus and refreshment through prayer and seeking God was the purpose of us gathering together every week."

Within STUCO, a variety of student-oriented and student-led committees existed. The Student Activities Committee (SAC) was responsible for organizing school-wide events to get students involved. This year, under leaders Michelle Neugebauer, Nola Fink, and Shelby Crawford, the committee was responsible for the Christmas Banquet, the luau, and Skip Day, as well as several movie nights.

The Student Encouragement Committee, led by Michelle Farag, performed numerous acts of encouragement and was largely responsible for Faculty and Staff Appreciation Week.

The Prayer Warriors, led by Susan Kirby and Evie Krenzin, met every week to pray and organized two 24-hour Prayer Fests.

The Athletic Encouragement Committee, led by Robyn Wright, helped support MCC's athletic teams and organized a huge banana-split party on behalf of the men's soccer team.

All four groups helped to bolster the spirits of the faculty and the student body through activities and prayer and encouragement. -A. Anderson

Reaching Out: Kerusso Dayz

More than 150 students and staff participated in Kerusso Dayz. They traveled all around the country glorifying the Lord through service.

World Impact - Wichita, KS
An inner-city ministry that provides job training, ministry to unwed mothers, medical attention, etc. Students participated in work projects and worship.

Alpha Christian Children's Home - Perry, KS

Home for troubled youth; a live-in program providing various ministries. Students participated in work projects and assisted in ministry.

Light House - Kansas City, MO
Home for women facing an unplanned pregnancy. Students helped to clean and prepare housing.

World Impact - St. Louis, MO
Inner-city mission that provides after-school clubs, job training, etc. Students worked with a high school youth group, work projects, a Halloween alternative, and worship.

Shannon's Hope - Denver, CO
A teen pregnancy center located in a renovated house. Students helped to fix up the house, participated in building low income housing, and attended a coffee shop set up for the homeless.

Flint Hills Breadbasket - Manhattan, KS
Provides food and other essentials for the less fortunate. Students participated in stocking and organizing food.

People's City Mission - Lincoln, NE
A homeless shelter as well as a clothing and merchandise center. Students helped organize their store and clean some facilities.

Inner city, DCC - Dallas, TX
Students stayed at Dallas Christian College and worked with the inner city program there.

The Bridge - Joplin, MO
A youth facility set up for outreach. Includes a climbing wall, skate park, etc. Students helped to fix up the building and spent time with youth.

No Limits and Safe Place - Omaha, NE
Two different facilities for troubled youth. Students worked with and built relationships with kids.

Kansas Christian Convention - Manhattan, KS
Meeting of Christians from Kansas. Students provided children's classes and music from the music department.

The supreme goal of ADV is to share God's love through His Word and the medium of drama.

Lights! Camera! Action! A Different View is on the road again. Performing at over 15 venues, ADV saw Kansas, Missouri, and Oklahoma in its busiest year ever. Directors Rebekah Wright, Cami Stemsrud, and Kelly Greemore led seventeen actors and actresses in presenting the gospel message through "A Different View." The supreme goal of ADV is to share God's love through His Word and the medium of drama. Weekly practice sessions, memorization, and blocking prepared the team to deliver stories from the Bible in a unique and "different" way. Many memories of falling chairs, forgotten lines, and "snickerdoodles (yum, yum)," will be cherished along with the smiles, laughs, and tears of learning, seeing and experiencing God's Word through drama. -Rebekah Wright.

A DIFFERENT VIEW

ANNA NYSTROM

"Drama Team gives me an opportunity to serve, and it encourages me when people at the church tell me that our ministry has touched them."

AMANDA BEST

"The most memorable part of our Drama Team trips has been making guesses on how many e-mail addresses Brett would get!"

LIKE, FOR SURE... Nathan Jansen and Rachel Olson perform a skit about a surfer dude and valley girl learning to cook.

UNSPOKEN MESSAGE

Brandi Barnett, Hannah Hatton, Melisa Hawkins, Amanda Moomaw, Michelle Neugebauer, Megan Glenn, Kristi Lozinski, Patty Ciarla, Sabrina Martin, Jeni Foltz, Burgandi Leyba, Becki Herrington, Rachel Olson, Laura VanderHamm, Crystal Welch, and Rachael Steveson.

DRAMA TEAM

Kristian Pearson, Cory Kitch, Dave Hinton, Brett Jenkins, Kelly Greemore, Rachel Olson, Amanda Best, Cambria Stemsrud, Rebekah Wright, and Natalie Harvey.

NICE MOVE

Practicing for an upcoming performance, Unspoken Message works hard to perfect their routine.

HOLD THAT POSE

Brandi Barnett uses dance to minister silently during Woman's World, where Unspoken Message gives a moving performance.

AMANDA MOOMAW

"I've always wanted to minister in this way, and I'm glad I got the opportunity to this year."

BRANDI BARNETT

"I think that Unspoken Message is a good opportunity to worship God in another way."

UNSPOKEN MESSAGE

Their goal is not only to worship God personally but also to help others gain a new perspective on worship.

Grace, power, love; these are ideas that Unspoken Message communicated through their unique blend of choreography and pantomime set to inspirational music. With fifteen to twenty members, Unspoken Message was one of the largest volunteer ministry teams that travel to churches and participate in school events. The members' goal is not only to worship God personally, but also to help others gain a new perspective on worship. They put in hours of rehearsal time and gave up weekends to travel so that they might get the chance to reflect God's light into the lives of those who see/hear their message, all without saying a word.

JOSHUA HATTON

"It was a flaming good time!"

ALICIA BUCHHOLZ

"I dig Get Hot for God because it is a great opportunity to serve and to have tons of fun."

Get Hot for God has witnessed rapid growth in 2000-2001 and looks forward to the years ahead.

Get Hot for God is an organization dedicated to reach, restore, and maintain youth for Christ. Though it is an independent organization, its leadership and staff is made up of mostly Manhattan Christian College students who desire to participate in hands-on ministry.

One of the ways members accomplished the mission was by organizing and staffing lock-ins and other activities for churches who do not have resources available to staff such events. A group of volunteer staff members provided all of the worship leading, activities, and teaching needed for the events.

The group conducted special events also. The "Roman Road" was a weekend of hiking and camping during which participants learned about the Apostle Paul and his teachings.

Get Hot for God has witnessed rapid growth in 2000-2001 and looks forward to the years ahead.

PRISON MINISTRY

Thank God, there are not walls high enough and no bars strong enough to stop the Word of God from being proclaimed.

The Prison Ministry team is blessed with the opportunity of representing Christ and sharing the Gospel of our Lord with those who are incarcerated. When Christ gave the mandate to go and make disciples of all nations there were no groups that were to be excluded. Dealing with those that need the love of God most in their lives is no different.

Prison is not a pretty place, and if the walls could talk they would reveal more pain and suffering than one could bear. But thank God, there are not walls high enough and no bars strong enough to stop the Word of God from being proclaimed.

The Prison Ministry team was actively involved with inmates in the Hutchison and Winfield prisons. They also did volunteer work through the Chuck Colson Prison Fellowship. It was wonderful to witness the power of God touching the hardest hearts, and the Prison Ministry team appreciated the prayers and support that were necessary to maintain a vital ministry.

ABBY SPENCE

"Getting to know the students that participate in our events is one of the highlights of being on the team."

BEN LONG

"Being on staff is a good time of fellowship, service, and discipling to both junior high and high school students. It also has its ups, like getting free food."

ROBIN RENNER

"I really enjoyed building relationships with the kids."

AARON BRENT

"It is really cool to minister to people this way. I have seen a lot of prospective students who have been enthusiastic about MCC."

JESSICA WEAST

"I enjoy working closely with the youth groups that attend the events."

EVENT STAFF

"I had an awesome time working with the high schoolers, but it was nice to have a break."

-Anna Seehorn

Event Staff is both an honor and hard work as well.

Event Staff was one of the many organizations a student could participate in on campus. To be on Event Staff was an honor and hard work as well. In order to be selected, a student had to go through an application process. Around 20 students were selected for this ministry. This organization required a student to give up a lot of weekend time to participate in the activities that the Admissions Department put on. It was a great experience for both MCC students and the different church groups that participated in these events. Some of the events they staffed included Fall Festival of Faith, Timothy Days, Middle School Summit weekend, and Bible Bowl.

HEIDI POST

"By spending time in training with my team members this semester, I have become very excited for this summer."

NICK PANNONE

"I'm looking forward to working with 3 people that have unlimited capabilities and are going to do amazing in camps for the kingdom."

BECKI HERRINGTON

"Darci and I have been given an amazing opportunity to invest God's word into kids' lives. I can think of nothing more rewarding."

PLEASE, CONTAIN YOURSELVES!

DRESSED TO SAVE . . .

Jamie Lamberson, Heidi Post, Kristie Feldman, and Jason Jaggard show how professional they can really be.

CAMP TEAMS

How would you like to spend your entire summer in a van?

Camp team is a prestigious and long-standing tradition at Manhattan Christian College. Started in 1985, the camp team program has involved a total of 34 teams and 106 students who have participated in camps from New York to California. Their mission? "To share the Lord, to strengthen relationships for the Lord, to serve in any way possible, and to encourage those around them."

After a two-stage application program, ten current students were chosen for this year's camp team program. Over the summer the three current camp teams, led by Heidi Post, Nick Pannone, and Becki Herrington, will engage students and sponsors for eight weeks in an effort to promote and model both Christ and Manhattan Christian College. Their travels will take them from Arizona to Florida and everywhere in between.

Camp teams specialize in working as teams and dealing with all the struggles of conflicting personalities --a daunting task. However, through the grace of God, every year each camp team seems to end the summer closer to Jesus and having spread the gospel to young people far and wide. -J. Jaggard

KRISTIE FELDMAN

"I have to spend all summer with these guys."

If you have enjoyed this book, or found it useful, then these are the people you need to thank. They have worked hard, had some fun, and are ready to do it again next year.

Our dedicated sponsor, Virginia Beddow

Along with responsibility came the rewards of knowing that they had helped the school and preserved the memory of a great year!

When you opened this book, you didn't just open pages covered with words and pictures. Rather, you opened the product of many hours of hard work by the Vision Yearbook staff. A group of 12 staff members, along with several other contributing photographers and writers, created the book from scratch. They worked whenever they had a chance: after class, in the evenings, and even part of the summer.

In addition to creating the content and design of the book, the staff sold advertisements and held fund-raisers to help pay for the over $15,000 cost of publishing it.

Yet, even with all the work, most of those on the yearbook staff agreed that it was fun and rewarding. Along with responsibility came the rewards of knowing that they had helped the school and preserved the memory of a great year!

Called to Seek and Save

"Then Jesus came to them and said, 'All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age.'" Matthew 28:18-20 (NIV)

What now? To retire, one must invest a little early or a lot late. Corollary: invest conservatively now or "go for broke" later. The poor think a home is an investment; they can't tell the difference between an asset and a liability. Rich people buy assets. Very rich people bought assets while young. If you are risk averse, start now.

The Vision 2001 staff thanks everyone who helped make this book possible. We have put many long hours into this work and hope that it brings back fond memories for years to come!

*As a prisoner for the Lord, then,
I urge you to live a life worthy of the calling you have received.*

Ephesians 4:1
(NIV)
